Clinigence and Signallamp Health announce a collaborative partnership to make it easier to succeed in value-based care. The partnership will give health system customers access to technology and clinical data for Merit Based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) and Advanced Payment Models (APM) data management and a one-of-a-kind low-risk, high-reward Chronic Care Management (CCM) service.

This partnership combines the clinically integrated MIPS and APM solutions of Clinigence with Signallamp's no up-front cost and full-service approach for CCM. Clinigence will provide actionable, clinically integrated data for a holistic view of the patient that Signallamp will leverage to provide CCM services. Jacob Margolin, CEO and Co-founder of Clinigence, said "Signallamp customers that are looking to increase quality in support of MIPS and MSSP GPRO reporting will be excited to learn more about the value of our Quality Performance Platform. Providers will get a superior dashboard view of their population to easily monitor and manage their data on an ongoing basis. We also look forward to introducing Clinigence customers to a truly unique CCM solution."

Both companies are dedicated to the satisfaction of their customers; therefore, it was important that the partnership was one that provided significant value for the healthcare organizations they serve. Signallamp complements provider workflow with dedicated care managers between visits. The consistent relationship results in provider confidence and long-term patient retention in CCM services. Clinigence empowers healthcare providers to maximize performance-based revenue by delivering more effective and efficient care. By leveraging patient data, healthcare providers take control of their performance in support of their transition from volume to value. Drew Kearney, CEO and Co-founder of Signallamp Healthcare, said, "Signallamp's dedication to providing quality service with our CCM solution is the perfect combination that supports value-based care initiatives, without the expense that is usually associated with this endeavor. We only hire knowledgeable and compassionate clinicians to create an environment that supports the patients and their caregivers. Clinigence's customers will absolutely benefit from this opportunity."

About Signallamp, Inc.

Signallamp Health is a technology-enabled care management provider that works as an extension of the physician practice and dedicates nurse resources to chronically ill patients.
